ATTORNEY GENERAL STEVE MARSHALL RESPONDS TO PRESIDENT DONALD TRUMP'S NOMINATION OF ALABAMA SPECIAL DEPUTY ATTORNEY GENERAL COREY MAZE FOR FEDERAL JUDGESHIP

(MONTGOMERY) – Alabama Attorney General Steve Marshall issued the following statement in response to the White House’s announcement Thursday morning that President Donald Trump has nominated Alabama Special Deputy Attorney General Corey Maze to serve as a District Judge on the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Alabama.

“Corey Maze is a very talented and experienced lawyer who would be an outstanding addition to the Northern District Court bench. He possesses a broad base of legal experience from the prosecution of criminal trials and appeals as an Alabama Assistant Attorney General, to arguing cases before the U.S. Supreme Court as former Alabama Solicitor General, to successfully representing Alabama in the landmark BP oil spill case. An Auburn University alumnus and cum laude graduate of Georgetown University Law Center, Corey Maze is a man of the highest integrity and would be a great credit to the U.S. District Court. I wholeheartedly support his nomination.”
